KENTUCKY GIVEN BAD NAME ABROAD BY NIGHT RIDERS

How Washington Views Situation Existing in Old Commonwealth.

Outlaws Really Fighting Power of Government.

HOPE FOR RETURN OF SANITY

(Staff Correspondence)

Washington, D. C., March 18.—Kentuckians away from home are as much objects of attention as ever, though since the night riders have exhibited another phase of Kentucky character, that attention is from a different motive than formerly. It is not exaggeration to say that Kentucky stood out more distinctly than any state in the Union, for picturesque, and while that distinction was not for the fitness of character of the Puritan, still for sound virtues Kentucky character was universally held in high esteem. I have met people in the street, in stores, in churches and in homes and they all show immediate interest in the present situation in Kentucky, and while it might be hyperbole to say that the old reputation of the state has been completely shattered, it is not putting it too strong to say that a wide-spread change has occurred in the estimation of Kentucky.

Illustrating my point, is a conversation I had with a person in this city in which afterward I thought I detected something of hidden sarcasm.

"Your people are the bravest men, of whom I have any knowledge," he said, opening the conversation on Kentucky.

"Do you call riding about under the cover of midnight, shooting into the houses of sleeping neighbors, and burning their property, bravery?" I always thought brave men met their foes in the open.

"Measured by their willingness to risk their lives, their freedom and their property," he replied, "the night riders are brave men. Here's what I mean."

"Your governor can use all the resources of his office and all the state militia against the night riders. If this is inadequate, he can call on the president of the United States for aid. The president can use the entire standing army of the United States against the night riders, and if that was not sufficient, he could strip the navy of its sailors and marines to suppress the insurrection. Failing of his aim with these resources, he is constitutionally empowered to call the militia of every other state in the Union against the night riders. In other words, the night riders in attacking law and order in Kentucky are in reality attacking not merely the small state authority, but have declared war on the whole nation. Isn't the highest kind of bravery, measuring bravery as I said, by a man's recklessness in using his life, liberty and property for a cause?"

The Bigger View.

There is much in this view of the Kentucky situation. The framers of Small Boys Soap Track.

Leitchfield, Ky., March 18.—Some excitement was caused here when the Illinois Central passenger train due at 10:10 a. m., was unable to stop at the station, running quite a distance past before the train could be controlled. Investigation showed that the track around a curve just out of sight of the depot had been soaped. Further investigation unearthed the fact that the soaping had been done by small boys in a spirit of mischief. Later a tie was found fastened to the track and a spike was driven between two rails where they came together. The spike had been broken off, presumably by the passing train. The tie and the spike are believed to be the work of older heads.

THE PADUCAH MEDICAL

AND SURGICAL SOCIETY.

Last night 15 prominent physicians of the city met in the office of Dr. J. T. Reddick for the purpose of reorganizing the Paducah Medical and Surgical society, which was abandoned five years ago when the present McCracken County Medical society was organized. Officers were elected for the year of 1908, and a committee of three was appointed to draw up by-laws. Officers elected are: Dr. John G. Brooks, president; Dr. O. R. Kidd, vice president; Dr. J. T. Reddick, secretary. The committee appointed on by-laws are: Dr. B. B. Griffith, Dr. J. Q. Taylor and Dr. Frank Boyd. The next meeting will be held Thursday night, March 26, and the organization will be completed and by-laws

Former Bracken County Citizen Sues to Recover $50,000 Damages From Men Who Drove Him From State.

Eminence, Ky., March 18. (Special.)—Seven masked men went to the farm of Henry Ellis in Shelby, three miles from here, and calling him out, burned his dwelling because he had sold some of his pooled tobacco.

Sues Night Riders.
Covington, Ky., March 18. (Special.)—Robert E. Staton, now a resident of Ohio, sued four Bracken county men for $50,000 each, for damages on account of night rider raids while he resided in Bracken county, Kentucky.

SURVEY TO RIVER

Work began this morning on the survey for the Paducah Northern railroad from the city limits to Metropolis landing. The engineers have surveyed the route through the city, and the ordinance for the right-of-way will be drawn up at once for reading in the council. The work outside the city will not be difficult, as the land is comparatively level. It is about 12 miles from the city limits to Metropolis, where the proposed bridge will cross the Ohio river. The engineers will complete the survey for the definite location in several days.

ONLY FOUR PER CENT HAVE TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. C. G. Warner today finished the investigation of the last of 80 cows in the dairies in this county and is preparing his report of his work.

"I found only three cows in the entire lot affected with tuberculosis," he said today, "which is less than 4 per cent. This is a remarkable record. I have inspected cattle in Minnesota and North Dakota, and we seldom found less than 25 and many times as high as 40 per cent of the stock diseased."

Asked for his theory for the good showing of the cattle hereabouts he replied:

"I believe it is due to the fact that out cattle are outdoors most of the year round. We all appreciate the value of fresh air, and I firmly believe this is, in great measure, responsible for the healthy condition of our stock."

Auditor's Agent Busy in McCracken County, Adding to Seven Millions Already Involved.

If the efforts of the busy auditor's agents are successful McCracken county will be able to get along without a tax levy next year.

Suits have already been filed to force the payment of back taxes on about $7,000,000 worth of real estate and personal property, as far back as five years, the larger portion being against the American Tobacco company, the American Snuff company and tobacco dealers in the city, who, it is claimed, have not listed property owned in the county for taxation.

Today Magistrate C. W. Emery, auditor's agent for the county, started after the railroads by bringing suit against the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad to force the collection of taxes on $250,000 worth of personality, consisting of machinery, tools and rolling stock and on $50,000 worth of real estate property. The suits will come up before Judge Lightfoot at the April term of his civil court.

VETERANS DYING BY THOUSANDS--- OFF PENSION ROLL

Washington, March 18.—More pensioners died the last year than fought on either side at Shiloh in '62. This statement was made in the house today when the $15,000,000 general pension bill was up for passage. It was shown that 45,768 names were stricken from the pension rolls by death. It is predicted in nine years the Civil war veterans will be as scarce as Mexican war veterans are today.

MYSTERY OF RUSSELL RILEY IS CLEARED UP

St. Louis, Mo., March 18.—Russell Riley, artist and litterateur, who lived as a recluse forty years in St. Louis and died as a druggist Monday, was identified today as assistant secretary of the Confederate navy during the Civil war. Mr. Riley, who won recognition in battles at Sharpsburg and Antietam, was known in St. Louis only as the proprietor of a modest establishment at Fourteenth and Olive streets. He lived a life of mystery, which was not unraveled until he died in his room at the Bluegrass hotel. Mr. Riley was an intimate friend of Jeff Davis and an associate of General Robert E. Lee.

LEGISLATURE IS ADJOURNED SINE DIE EARLY TODAY

House Passes Bill Legalizing Gambling on Licensed Race Tracks in State.

Second Class City Police Bill is Passed by House.

SENATOR CAMPBELL RETORTS

Frankfort, Ky., March 18. (Special.)—The legislature adjourned at 4 o'clock this morning after wild scenes in the house.

The members took affairs out of the rules committee's hands and passed the anti-pool room bill with an amendment providing for betting on licensed race tracks during the race meeting only, passed the capitol appropriation with provision that Andrews be retained only so long as the commission thinks an architect necessary.

The senate bill which provided that the city councils of second class cities may provide for as many or as few policemen as they think necessary, was passed after a long debate by a vote of 47 to 24.

Attack on Campbell.
In the closing hours of the legislature Senator Campbell, of Paducah, replied to a speech made by Beckham, in which Mr. Beckham charged the Democrats who had refused to vote for him for senator with being traitors to the Democratic party.

Senator Campbell said such gross frauds were committed in the 1906 primary that Beckham could not be said to have been nominated, and cited several instances where grave crimes against the ballot were committed. He demanded that Mr. Beckham make specific his vague charges of corruption.

Senator Campbell just before adjournment last night made a speech declaring he would not support Beckham because the primary was fraudulent, and named several instances which he claims showed the statement true. He said Beckham did not have a good title to the nomination.

Senator Watkins tried to interrupt him to ask the following question, which Senator Campbell says is false: Is it not a fact you have had in your possession a thousand dollars due the state on account of the Paducah encampment?

That you held that money back, notwithstanding you were notified by General Lawrence to pay it; that at the beginning of the session, of the belonged to you and exonerating you, senator commenced you went to Beckham's room and tried to get him to write you a letter saying the money belonged to you and exonerating you from all obligation of paying it to the state, and Gov. Beckham could not give you such a letter and that on the following day, Tuesday, when balloting began you voted against Beckham. Have you ever paid that thousand dollars to the state?

The bill to allow city clerks in second class cities to give out the printing was defeated by the house.

The legislature passed a bill repealing the five gallon law, under which distillers could sell five gallons or more in a local option community. By this means the thirsty citizens could club together, if a distillery was handy, and assuage their joint thirst. Now a distillery cannot sell even at wholesale to individuals.

DARK TOBACCO SALES TO BEGIN AGAIN TOMORROW.

Salesman Veale, of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association, is busy today arranging the types in the sample rooms in order that brokers, who are expected here tomorrow, may be able to look through the lot on hand systematically. No sales have been made this week but good sales probably will be made tomorrow and next day.

Reports from the country are that farmers are preparing for a big crop of tobacco next year, the number of plant beds burned so far being in excess of last year. The weather this season has so far been favorable and unless April is cold there will be an abundance of plants.

MAY VOTE ON BONDS

It is probable that the school board will not undertake to issue bonds without an election. A canvass of the members shows that a majority does not care to assume the responsibility of issuing bonds, even if the right is made clear, without the direct sanction of the taxpayers. It is probable that a bond issue will be asked of about $40,000 or $50,000, sufficient to cover the expense of another new building, possibly in the Lee district, the present structure of which is dilap

San Francisco, March 18.—Graft charges are rampant in the police department against eight men, ranging from sergeant to patrolmen, who are suspended. Others are under investigation. The chief of police says if the matter hadn't become known many more would have been caught.

PASSENGER TRAIN STRIKES FREIGHT CARS--INJURIES

Four cars, which broke from a freight train at Dyersburg and rolled miles down the main track of the Illinois Central, almost caused a disastrous wreck last night when fast passenger train No. 104, due to arrive in Paducah from Memphis at 1:50 a. m., ran into them at 11:40 between Dyersburg and Fulton, Tenn. But for the fact that the cars were discovered by Engineer Lee Baker and Fireman E. R. Morrison, both of Paducah, in time to apply the emergency brakes, the train would have been wrecked and hundreds of lives lost, as the train was well crowded with passengers. Both engineers staid in the cab until everything possible had been done to prevent a collision, and then sought safety by jumping. Fireman Morrison was badly bruised and was forced to abandon his run when another engine was secured and came on to Paducah in the sleeper. He was able to be out on the street this afternoon.

Engine No. 2036, which was pulling the passenger was torn up, striking the loaded cars while going about 20 miles an hour. The presence of the cars standing on the main track away from any station without any one in charge is unaccounted for unless they got away from a freight train near Dyersburg and rolled down the track unnoticed.

The accident caused the train, which is due to arrive at Paducah at 1:40 a. m., to be delayed until 7:30. A crew of car repairers from the shops was sent out to repair a broken beam on one of the sleepers. The damaged engine will be

TOTAL VALUE OF ALL PROPERTY IN CO. IS $12,965,629

Recapitulation of Assessor's Books Completed This Afternoon.

Amount and Value of Various Kinds of Personality

THE TOTAL INCREASE $593,184

The total assessed value of personal and real estate property in McCracken county, including bank assessments, which may be taxed for county purposes this year, is $12,965,629, according to the recapitulation of Assessor Troutman's books, which will be completed by Deputies Walter Smedley and James Wilcox, of the county clerk's office, this afternoon. The assessment shows an increase of $593,184 over the assessment of 1907, the total assessment for last year, including the banks, being $12,372,445.

By referring to the footings taken from the recapitulation sheets given below some interesting statistics are gleaned and show in a manner the correctness of the assessment lists as certified to the assessor by the property owners. Following are some of the totals taken from the recapitulation:

Amount bonds, $19,600; amount notes secured by mortgage, $156,947; amount other notes, $110,460; amount accounts, $137,315; amount cash on hand, $46,369; amount cash on deposit in bank, $46,495; amount cash on deposit with other corporations, $590; number diamonds, 134; value diamonds, $8,470; value jewelry, $210; value gold, silver and plated ware, $550; number steamboats 5, value, $44,000; value wines, whiskies, brandies, etc., $117,200; number stores 316, value stocks, $792,155.

Total assessed value of lands, $27,020.49.

Total assessed value of town lots, $7,192,350.

Total assessed value of personal property, $2,387,641.

Amount of exemption on household goods and other personal property to a person with a family—not exceeding $250, $21,025.50.

Grand total value of all property assessed for taxation (after exemption has been deducted), $12,071,715.

Assessed value of banks, $803,914. Seven hundred and thirty-four dogs over four months old are listed for taxation.

Assessor Troutman is of the opinion that the increase in the valuation made this year will reduce the tax rate for county purposes at least two and may be four cents on the $100 worth of property owned.

Wanted in Mississippi.

Walter Lee was arrested last night by Patrolmen Cross and Johnson as a fugitive from justice. The police department knows little of the charge for which Lee is wanted, but it is understood it is forgery. He will be held until the police may hear from Mississippi and Dyersburg, Tenn. Lee has been in the city since before Christmas.

SHOCKING CRIME LAID AT FATHER'S DOOR BY MOTHER

Charged with criminal assault on his own 12-year-old daughter, George Portwood, a white man about 40 years old, was placed in the city jail this morning for safe keeping until this afternoon, when he left with Sheriff Robert Camp, for Paragould, Ark. Portwood was arrested about 12 miles from Smithland by Sheriff Bishop on receipt of a letter from Portwood's wife.

Portwood protested his innocence, and said the charge is one of spite work, as he and his wife are not on good terms. He also alleged that other parties are interested in the fight. He has been away from Paragould, Ark., several months, and has been working as a farm laborer around Smithland.

Portwood made no resistance to the sheriff, and handed over his pocket knife when asked for it. He says he is innocent of the charge, and will return to the Arkansas city without requisition papers. Sheriff Camp and Portwood left this afternoon for Paragould. He is a common looking man, and does not seem to be bothered about the charge.

Was Greek to Spectators.

Louis Caporal and Tom Constantine, two Greeks, who had a fight yesterday morning at Second street and Kentucky avenue, said they were only playing when arrested. The two Greeks were busy talking to each other in their own language, and the bystanders could not say whether the belligerents were swearing. Judge Cross fined each $1 and let the costs be divided.

MERCY FOR ORCHARD

Boise, March 18.—Judge Wood today sentenced Harry Orchard, the confessed murderer of Steunenberg and nineteen other men, to death. Wood recommended that the pardon board commute the sentence to life imprisonment, because Orchard told the truth in the Haywood and Pettibone trials.

THE UNION BEER DRIVERS FOR MILLION DOLLARS.

St. Louis, March 18.—The Beer drivers of the union dismissed by the breweries because they haven't cards signed by the secretary of faction recognized by employers, today sued for $1,100,000 damages. The suit is for alleged breach of contract and the damage asked represent wages, which would be paid to dismissed drivers up to the time the contract expires.

MITCHELL WINS

Indianapolis, March 18.—It is authoritatively stated the miners' scale committee this afternoon will present a majority report favored by Mitchell, advocating a settlement of contracts by districts, as was done two years ago. The minority report favored by President-elect Lewis will ask a postponement until after April 1, when Lewis becomes president. The latter would discredit Mitchell. It is believed the executive committee will

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

"There's a Reason"

NO CONTRACTORS GIVEN MORE TIME

Board of Public Works Decides to be Firm.

Dozen Additional Arc Lamps Will Be Placed at Street Intersections By City.

THE QUESTION OF STORE SIGNS

Extended time to contractors in which to complete public work will not be granted, according to expressions of the members of the board of public works last night at the regular meeting. A letter was received from Ed Terrell, the contractor securing the contract for the improvement of Clark street between Tenth and Eleventh streets; Thirteenth street between Flournoy street and city limits; Paxton street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, and Twenty-third street in Glenwood addition. Extended time has been given the contractor once, which expires April 1. Contractor Terrell wrote that he has been unable to enter his gravel pit, because of high water, but the members thought this was not a valid excuse. Hereafter the board intends making every contractor securing a contract from the city to toe the line. Contractor Terrell asked until July 1 to complete the work, but the board thought this too long. Until May 15 was suggested, but after discussing the policy of making every contractor come to terms the board refused to extend the time to Contractor Terrell.

Twenty-third street is in bad condition at present, and it is almost impossible to drive a buggy over it. One resident said he had not seen the front of his residence since the street was torn up.

City employees must pay their poll tax or they will be without a job from the city. Last night Mr. Katterjohn brought up the matter of delinquent poll taxpayers among the city employees. The policy of Mayor Smith will be followed. Letters will be written to the heads of all departments to instruct employees that the tax must be paid, or they may be dismissed from service.

Parley place has been encroached upon until City Engineer Washington finds that it will be impossible to improve the street according to the old survey. However, the street is wide enough, and the board of public works decided to accept the line as it is at present and make the improvements. Many of the residents have planted shade trees, and the city engineer does not desire to cut down the trees. If the street is made 5 1/2 feet wide the trees will remain, but the board decided it is poor policy to cut the width of any street, and voted to have the street the regular width, 60 feet. Mr. Washington said he can so arrange that only three of the trees will have to come down.

Question of Signs.

The board discussed the merchants placing any kind of signs over the sidewalk, and thought there should be some restriction. Before a sign is placed in position the board must see a drawing and approve of the sign, although it does not have to be an electric sign. Many of the merchants have placed revolving signs in front of their establishments without the approval of the board. The pivot on which the sign turns may wear out, and in falling it might strike some pedestrian in the face and injure him. In this case the city would be liable for damages. The members of the board will get a copy of the ordinance regulating the placing of signs over sidewalks.

Several merchants have complained of trash boxes recently placed on the streets, because the boxes bear the advertisement of two dealers. The board voted that if any merchant wishes to present boxes to the city they will be used in extending the system. Women have requested that the boxes be continued out to the High school, as they say children attending that school throw much paper on the streets. Street Inspector Bell said the people are learning to use the boxes. Below Third street on Broadway only a handful of paper has been received from each box, but from Sixth to Third street, the citizens have made good use of the receptacles.

New Street Lights.

Twelve street lights will be added to the present system. Superintendent Keebler said that the plant can carry 50 more lights, but requests for street lights have been received so regularly that Mayor Smith asked Superintendent Keebler to prepare a list of the corners best suited for a dozen lights. Mr. Keebler will give the board a report of the material required at a special meeting, and the order will be placed as soon as possible. Permission was given Superintendent Keebler to purchase new exhaust valves for the engine at the power house. The cost will be between $30 and $50.

Alleys between Clay, Trimble, Ninth and Tenth streets; Tennessee, Norton, Third and Fourth streets, were referred to the street inspector for investigation. Probably warrants will be issued against some property owners for throwing refuse into the public highways.

Frank Kirchhoff asked permission to use old stone curbing in front of his property on Ohio street instead of the combined curb and gutter. The board thought it a bad precedent and to permit it the board would have to secure an ordinance passed by the general council, and then get the contractor to consent to an altered contract. On vote the board refused to permit the stone to be used.

The school trustees asked permission from the board to grade North Twelfth street for use as a playground, but the board decided on recommendation of City Engineer Washington to, refuse the request. The board, as trustees for the people, decided it has no right to permit a street to be used as a playground.

George Katterjohn, who secured the contract for sidewalks on Farley Place, said several of the residents wanted the sidewalks the full twelve feet wide instead of six feet. Permission was granted George Ingram and Charlie Smith to have the wide sidewalk.

The board accepted a liability policy for one year on the street light department. Behout & Smith were given the policy with the premium at $250.

Lights on the Fraternity building were ordered raised. The owners refused to make the improvement until written notice was given and the board ordered the notice mailed.

No more water must run over the sidewalk at the Tully livery stable, Fourth street and Kentucky avenue. When washing buggies the water has escaped to the gutter over the sidewalk, but the board decided to stop the nuisance.

Inspectors will be needed when the concrete work begins and City Engineer Washington was empowered to employ a man, his salary to begin when the work is commenced.

The market bench of Miss Kate Englert on the market was ordered to be transferred to relatives.

The semi-monthly payroll was allowed, and the reports of Superintendent J. O. Keebler and Street Inspector Bell for the past two weeks were received.

W. L. Yancey desires to improve an alley in Worten's addition and asked permission from the board, but he was referred to the general council as an ordinance will have to be passed.

The Anchor Paving and Roofing company, of Evansville, was ordered to make improvements of the sidewalk on Broadway between Ninth and Fifth streets.

Dr. P. H. Stewart complained of a bad place on North Ninth street, between Jefferson and Monroe streets, and the board ordered it investigated.

Fountain is Ready.
The fountain ordered for Tenth street and Broadway has arrived and sewer connections were ordered arranged to be ready for the fountain. The foundation will be laid at once also.

All the members were present last night and it was decided to meet in the afternoon hereafter. This is the second meeting held at night, but it will be more convenient for the members to meet in the afternoon, the regular meeting time until several weeks ago.

Headache?

If it does, you should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. Why not do so. They will relieve the pain in just a few minutes. Ask your druggist. There are 45,000 druggists in the U. S. Ask any of them. A package of 25 doses costs 25 cents. One tablet usually stops a headache. They relieve pain without leaving any disagreeable after-effects—isn't that what you want?

"My son Frank Snyder has used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for a long time. He never had anything to help him so much for headaches. A year ago he came home, and I was down sick with such a dreadful nervous headache. He gave me one of the Anti-Pain Pills, and after while I took another and was entirely relieved. I always keep them in the house now, and gave many away to others suffering with headache."

MONDAY NIGHT

THE SCHOOL BOARD WILL DECIDE THREE QUESTIONS.

Means to Escape Deficit and Escape From Buildings Will Be Considered Then.

Another special meeting of the school board will be held Monday night, at which time the question of issuing bonds to cover the deficit created by the erection of the two new schools last year, of erecting fire escapes and collecting back taxes in the city's hands will be finally settled. Hon. B. H. Puryear, who advised the board of his opinion that the board may issue bonds without a special election, suggested ex parte proceedings in the circuit court and court of appeals to determine the right. Trustees Bondurant, Kelly and Hills will report Monday. The building committee will report on the matter of collecting the back taxes.

Superintendent Carnegie reported on his visit to Washington, where he attended the National Educational association.

Those present were: Trustees Bondurant, Byrd, Clements, Hills, Karnes, Kelly and Murray.

Butter From Petroleum.

One of the very by-products of petroleum is butter. It is far superior to most of the cheap so-called butter that is sold in corner groceries, and a good deal better than oleomargarine. I had the experience of eating some the other day without knowing what it was and thought it most excellent. I assume it is vegetable prepared in a buttery way. Nothing simpler or easier. What next? Will wonders never cease? If olive oil were made into solid cakes and served as butter it would be in great demand as food. People in general believe it is made only for salads. A few cook with it.—New York Press.

FACE SLASHED

HARVEY BUFORD CAN THANK PROVIDENCE FOR DULL KNIFE.

Quarrelled With Charles Carroll and Was Badly Cut — Victim Colored.

Harvey Buford, colored, was slashed about the head last night by Charles Carroll, a young white man known to the police as "Chicago Sadie," on Kentucky avenue, a half square from the city hall. Police Lieutenant Potter and Patrolman Thad Terrell were notified, and when they ran out Carroll was assisting Buford to the hall. Buford had about a dozen wounds on his head and his temporal artery was cut. The police feared Buford would bleed to death, and Dr. L. L. Smith was called and sewed his face together again. In court this morning Buford's head was a mass of bandages. Both are bad characters, and last night in front of the city engineer's office had a quarrel. Carroll pulled a knife with a blade like a razor and started slashing. If a slash on the neck had gone a fraction deeper, the jugular vein would have been cut. Carroll was confined in the county jail and Buford was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. This morning Buford was fined $50 and costs for disorderly conduct, and the case against Carroll for malicious cutting with intent to kill was continued until tomorrow morning.

THE POLITICAL POOL.

Anti-administrations can not get that political pool to working right for several obvious reasons. The first and all embracing reason is that every body knows it is a pooling of influence, and that Taft and Hughes are the only bona fide candidates for the Republican presidential nomination; that these two only are in the fight to the last ditch. Cannon, Knox, Fairbanks and Foraker are acting palpably in conjunction, the three trying to hedge

Taft's state about with favorite son candidates, while Foraker fought him

at home. Foraker failed ignominiously and met political death in the performance of his part of the plot to assassinade Taft. Fairbanks, Cannon and Knox proposed to get all the votes

each one could and then throw their combined strength to the most available man at the convention. It might have worked if everybody had not learned their secret in advance. Now it is apparent that none of them can deliver the votes of his own state to any one else.

When the break comes Indiana and Pennsylvania will go to Taft almost solidly, and even in Illinois, where Joe Cannon has arranged that not the voters, but the committees shall name

the delegates, it is seen that every man is ready to spring into the Taft wagon, when Uncle Joe gives up.

These delegates, too, will all be the personal friends and followers of the three candidates named. As long as Joe Cannon is a candidate Illinois delegates will support him, and Fairbanks and Knox and Hughes are assured of the same loyalty from the delegates of their respective states; but loyalty

does not comprehend stolid, ox-like submission to being delivered like a car load of livestock. As Lieutenant stirs up the dormant Roosevelt sentiment. Last week we had another manifestation of that. Their press bureau began to declare that Taft is losing ground and he has no clench on first ballot nomination. Then observant correspondents in every section noted a recurrence of the third term sentiment, and county and district conventions in the west declared for Roosevelt. When the pooled interests get to the Chicago convention they will discover, that if they can produce a sufficient number of contests to create a deadlock, the Roosevelt sentiment will be too much for them, and they will have to take their choice between Taft and the third term, and take it quickly. They will never oppose Taft there, and he will be the only candidate when the convention is called to order.

THE LEGISLATURE.

When the returns were all in from the last general election it was seen that a timely gerrymander had saved to Kentucky Democracy by a frazzling margin both houses of the general assembly, that would elect a United States senator and handle such weighty propositions as the tobacco situation and the county unit law. It was politics, tobacco and whisky and the Democratic party mixed up the three together.

It was freely predicted when the returns were read, that the Republican state administration would be so handicapped with a Democratic general assembly, that it would be ruined, and the Sun was led to comment on this misfortune, remarking that it was one of the adverse conditions, which the administration would have to face without affording it an excuse for any failures. The Democratic remnant saw the opportunity, too, and it took pains to organize the legislature into a political machine. The lieutenant governor was shorn of his accustomed prerogatives. The president pro tem of the senate was given authority to name committees, and the speaker of the house was selected as presiding officer of the joint session.

But even this arrangement worked to the undoing of Democracy, for it emphasized more than ever the responsibility of the Democratic party for everything done and left undone. The Republican minority in the houses was helpless.

There isn't much left to be said. All the bills passed may easily be grouped into three classes, those carrying appropriations, those benefiting certain classes, and those urged by local politicians. No legislation designed to aid in restoring order in the commonwealth was seriously considered; the county unit law was defeated; race track gambling was legalized.

Instead of embarrassing the Republican administration, this Democratic legislature has crowned with humiliation the stricken Democracy of Kentucky, and by contrast accentuated the efficiency of the executive department.

Hughes is welcome to those Iowa delegates when Taft gets through with them.

Congress may not do anything this session; but that will not prevent the president telling them about it. No wonder so many congressmen get provoked at Roosevelt. They each have a constituency clamoring for jobs and favors; they have interests in their prospective districts that require looking after at their hands. The principal occupation of a congressman, any how, is holding his job, and the less real business he participates in the fewer enemies he will make. The president shows a lack of consideration for the personal welfare of the men with whom he is thrown in contact in Washington. Then, too, it is the time honored custom to do nothing just before a national campaign. But Roosevelt is so constituted that he must get things done regardless.

HE, WHO LAUGHS LAST.

"When one of our afternoon contemporaries wakes up this morning it will find it was only dreaming yesterday when it stated that the high license bill had passed the legislature. The dispatches of last night tell a different story."

That bright editorial squib was directed at The Paducah Evening Sun by a sheet that gets its foreign news out of the noon edition of the Louisville Evening Post of the day before, the $500 saloon license bill was passed day before yesterday after the noon edition of the Evening Post was printed, and that accounts for our little contemporary not being assured of the fact two days later.

The Lawyer and the Baker.

A Boston lawyer tells of the conversation between a legal light of that city, about to furnish a bill of costs, and his client, a baker.

"I hope, sir," said the latter, "that you will make it as light as possible."

"You might perhaps say that to the foreman of your establishment," suggested the attorney, with a fright-

THE MYSTERY

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE
And SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY M. C. CLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

CHAPTER IV.

IN semitropic Pacific weather the unexpected so seldom happens as to be a negligible quantity. The Wolverine met with it on June 5. From some unaccountable source in that realm of the heaven scouring trades came a heavy mist. Possibly volcanic action, deranging by its electric and gaseous outpourings the normal course of the winds, had given birth to it. Be that as it may, it swept down upon the cruiser, thickening as it approached, until presently it had spread a curtain between the warship and its charge. The wind died. Until after fall of night the Wolverine moved slowly, bellowing for the schooner, but got no reply. Once they thought they heard a distant shout of response, but there was no repetition.

"Probably doesn't carry any fog-horn," said Carter bitterly, voicing a general uneasiness.

"No fog, compass crazy; without fog signal; I don't like that craft. Barnett ought to have been ordered to blow her up as a peril to the high seas."

"We'll pick her up in the morning surely," said Forsythe. "This can't last forever."

Nor did it last long. An hour before midnight a pounding shower fell, lashing the sea into phosphorescent whiteness. It ceased, and with the growl of a leaping animal a squall furiously beset the ship. Soon the great steel body was plunging and heaving in the billows. It was a gloomy company about the wardroom table. Upon each and all hung an oppression of spirit. Captain Parkinson came from his cabin and went on deck. Constitutionally he was a nervous and pessimistic man with a fixed belief in the conspiracy of events, banded for the undoing of him and his. Blind or dubious conditions racked his soul, but real danger found him not only prepared, but even eager. Now his face was a picture of foreboding.

"Parky looks as if Davy Jones was pulling on his string," observed the flippant Ives to his neighbor.

"Worrying about the schooner. Hope Billy Edwards saw or heard or felt that squall coming," replied Forsythe, giving expression to the anxiety that all felt.

"He's a good sailor man," said Ives, "and that's a stanch little schooner by the way she handled herself."

"Oh, it will be all right," said Carter confidently. "The wind's moderating now."

"But there's no telling how far out of the course this may have blown him."

Barnett came down, dripping.

"Anything new?" asked Dr. Tredon.

The navigating officer shook his head.

"Nothing. But the captain's in a state of mind," he said.

"What's wrong with him?"

"The schooner. Seems possessed with the notion that there's something wrong with her."

"Aren't you feeling a little that way yourself?" said Forsythe. "I am. I'll take a look around before I turn in."

He left behind him a silent crowd. His return was prompt and swift.

"Come on deck," he said.

Every man leaped as to an order. There was that in Forsythe's voice which stung. The weather had cleared somewhat, though scudding clouds still blew across them to the westward. The ship rolled heavily. Of the sea naught was visible except the arching waves, but in the sky they beheld again, with a sickening sense of disaster, that pale and lovely glow which had so bewildered them two nights before.

"The aurora!" cried McGuire, the paymaster.

"Oh, certainly," replied Ives, with sarcasm. "Dead in the west. Common spot for the aurora. Particularly on the edge of the south seas, where they are thick."

"Then what is it?"

Nobody had an answer. Carter hastened forward and returned to report.

"It's electrical anyway," said Carter. "The compass is queer again."

"Edwards ought to be close to the solution of it," ventured Ives. "This gale should have blown him just about to the center of interest."

"If only he isn't involved in it," said Carter anxiously.

"What could there be to involve him?" asked McGuire.

"I don't know," said Carter slowly. "Somehow I feel as if the desertion of the schooner was in some formidable manner connected with that light."

For perhaps fifteen minutes the glow continued. It seemed to be nearer at hand than on the former sighting. But it died away and all was blackness again. But the officers of the Wolverine had long been in troubled slumber before the sensitive compass regained its exact balance, and with the shifting wind to mislead her, the cruiser had wandered by morning no man might know how far from her course.

All day long of June 6 the Wolverine, buffeted by patches of mist and moving rain squalls, patrolled the empty seas without sighting the lost schooner. The evening brought an envelope of fog again, and presently a light breeze came up from the north. An hour of it had called to disperse the mist when ceased—and from the lookout came a hail.

"Ship's lights three points on the starboard quarter."

"What do you make it out to be?" came the query from below.

"Green light's all I can see, sir." There was a pause.

"There's her port light now. Looks to be turning and bearing down on us, sir. Coming dead for us—the man's voice rose—'close aboard; less'n two ship's lengths away!'"

As for a prearranged scene, the fog curtain parted. There loomed silently and swiftly the Laughing Lass. Down she bore upon the greater vessel until it seemed as if she must ram, but all the time she was veering to windward, and now she ran into the wind with a castanet rattle of sails. So close aboard was she that the eager eyes of Uncle Sam's men peered down upon her empty decks, for she was void of life.

Behind the cruiser's blanketing she paid off very slowly, but presently caught the breeze full and again whitened the water at her prow. Forgetting regulations, Ives hailed loudly:

"Ahoy, Laughing Lass! Ahoy, Billy Edwards!"

No sound, no animate motion, came from aboard that apparition as she fell astern. A shudder of horror ran across the Wolverine's quarter deck. A wraith ship, peopled with skeletons, would have been less dreadful to their sight than the brisk and active desolation of the heeling schooner.

"Been deserted since early last night," said Tredon hoarsely.

"How can you tell that?" asked Barnett.

"Both sails reefed down, ready for that squall. Been no weather since to call for reefs. Must have quit her during the squall."

"Then they jumped," cried Carter, "for I saw her boats. It isn't believable."

"Neither was the other," said Tredon grimly.

A hurried succession of orders stopped further discussion for the time. Ives was sent aboard the schooner to lower sail and report. He came back with a staggering death of information. The boats were all there; the ship was intact—as intact as when Billy Edwards had taken charge—but the cheery, lovable ensign and his men had vanished without trace or clew. As to the how or the wherefore they might rack their brains without guessing. There was the beginning of a log in the ensign's handwriting, which Ives had found with high excitement and read with bitter disappointment.

"Had squall from northeast," it ran. "Double reefed her, and she took it nicely. Seems a seaworthy, quick ship. Further search for log. No result."

Have ordered one of the crew who is a bit of a mechanic to work at the brass bound chest till he gets it open. He reports marks on the lock as if somebody had been trying to pick it before him."

There was no further entry.

"Dr. Tredon is right," said Barnett. "Whatever happened and God only knows what it could have been—it happened just after the squall."

"Just about the time of the strange glow," cried Ives.

It was decided that two men and a petty officer should be sent aboard the Laughing Lass to make her fast with a cable and remain on board overnight. But when the order was given the men hung back. One of them protested brokenly that he was sick. Tredon after examination reported to the captain.

"Case of blue funk, sir. Might as well be sick. Good for nothing. Others aren't much better."

"Who was to be in charge?"

"Condon," replied the doctor, naming one of the petty officers.

"He's my cockswain," said Captain Parkinson. "A first class man. I can hardly believe that he is afraid. We'll see."

Condon was sent for.

"You're ordered aboard the schooner for the night, Condon," said the captain.

"Yes, sir."

"Is there any reason why you do not wish to go?"

The man hesitated, looking miserable. Finally he blurted out, not without a certain dignity:

"I obey orders, sir."

"Speak out, my man," urged the captain kindly.

"Well, sir, it's Mr. Edwards, then. You couldn't scare him off a ship, sir, unless it was something—something—"

He stopped, falling of the word.

"You know what Mr. Edwards was, sir, for pluck," he concluded.

"Was?" cried the captain sharply.

"What do you mean?"

"The schooner got him, sir. You don't make no doubt of that, do you, sir?"

The man spoke in a hushed voice, with a shrinking glance back of him.

"Will you go aboard under Mr. Ives?"

"Anywhere my officer goes I'll go and gladly, sir."

Ives was sent aboard in charge. For that night, in a light breeze, the two ships lay close together, the schooner riding jauntily astern. But not until morning illumined the world of waters did the Wolverine's people feel confident that the Laughing Lass would not vanish away from their ken like a shape of the mist.

RAW WHEAT AS FOOD.

How It Benefited a Man Who Is the World's Pluckiest Acrobat.

All the world of aerobatics has heard of Dr. Julian P. Thomas. His courage is born of the soil. A few years ago this man had no stomach. A poor devil without a stomach is not fit to live. He is like a splendid Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has a gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weakness and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong, protective, and invigorating effect on the system as this. It is a powerful tonic for the female system, and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. J. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

residence with a marble or brown-stone front. The front decays and falls off. The residence is a wreck. This is a rough way of saying that when a man has lost his stomach he is not able to present a good front. Thomas was at the point of death. He tried to go quack shooting near his home, Augusta, Ga., but was too weak to hold up his gun. No stomach.

It was harvest time. The reapers were chewing something, and Thomas had just energy enough to inquire if it was sweet gum or chicory. A big buck negro said: "Neither, sah, there ain't no sweet-gum trees in dis county, en de don't know de name o' chicory. We jes' chaws wheat." "You chaw wheat?" "Sho," sah, we jes' takes a few heads en roll 'em 'tween our han's, blow de chaff away, en hab our hanful o' de ripe grains. It's better 'n er chaw tobacco." "Does it brace you up?" "It so do, sah." "Give me a few heads." Thomas rubbed and winnowed, then proceeded to chew. Continued mastication converted the wheat into a gummy substance, which was not unpalatable. Thomas swallowed it. It stuck to his stomach. He felt relieved and strengthened. "More wheat!" he cried. And after the second ounce or two he took up his gun and killed more birds than anyone in the hunt.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Educational Department.
The Educational department of the Woman's club will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the club house. There is some important business to be brought up and all members are requested to be present.

Children's Civics Meeting.
The children's meeting under the auspices of the Civics department of the Woman's club on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the club house, 608 Kentucky avenue, will be a most interesting occasion and the children are cordially urged to be present. The co-operation of the teachers of the city schools has been asked in placing the invitation to the children before them, and it is hoped that all parents and teachers interested in all in civic cleanliness and beauty will aid in having the children attend. The program will be of a nature calculated to hold the children and not tire them, and there will be other attractive features. The program is:

1. A Few Civic Suggestions—Miss Adine Morton.
2. Instrumental solo—"Constant Devotion"—Mary Terry Burnett.
3. A Story—"Blessed Eyes"—Miss Compton.
4. Song—"The Night Wind"—Edith Sherrill.
5. A Talk About Flowers—Mrs. George Flournoy.

The Woman's club will have its regular meeting at 2:30 p. m. as usual. The open meeting will be at 4 o'clock on account of school.

Pleasant Surprise Party.
Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Thomas were pleasantly surprised by a few of their friends last evening in honor of the eleventh anniversary of their marriage. The evening was a most enjoyable one. Games were a feature of the pleasure. Light refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Alger, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Housholder, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Staten, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Houseman, Miss Marie Burch, Miss Mary Boaz, Mr. Nelson Boaz and Mr. Boaz.

Church Society Sewing Bee.
The Newell society of the Broadway Methodist church, which is composed of a number of prominent young matrons and girls, is holding "sewing bees" several afternoons each week at the houses of the members. The society will have an Easter sale of pretty and useful articles and is working for that.

Presbyterian Social.
The social given to the members and congregation of the First Presbyterian church last night by the Young Ladies' society in the church parlors was a success in every respect. The attendance was large and the guests were royally entertained. Besides the usual social features and refreshment an excellent musical program was given by the following well known musicians and vocalists: Misses Ada Brazelton, Mrs. George B. Hart, Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis, Miss Anna Bradshaw and Mr. Emmet Bagby. The church parlors were tastefully decorated with palms and ferns and jonquils.

Children of Temple Israel Entertainers.
The children of the Temple Israel Sunday school were given a pretty entertainment last evening at the Standard club rooms in celebration of the Feast of Purim. The evening was pleasantly diversified with games, recitations and songs. An attractive feature was some fine stereoscopic views illustrating the story of the Feast of Purim. Delightful refreshments were served. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

Informal Afternoon Tea.
Circle No. 2 of the Ramsey society is having an informal tea this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith, 503 Harrison street.

Executive Board Meets.
The executive board of the Woman's club met this morning at the club house preparatory to the regular meeting of the club tomorrow afternoon.

Informal Afternoon for Birthday.
Mrs. Nina Yeaman entertained a few of her friends in honor of her twenty-seventh birthday, yesterday afternoon at her home on Broadway. Delightful refreshments were served. Mrs. Yeaman received several beautiful presents.

Miss Allie D. Foster, of South Fifth street, went to Benton last night to visit the remainder of the week with relatives and friends.

Miss Frances Frost, of Vandalia, Mo., and Miss Margaret Cunningham, of Mexico, Mo., who have been guests of their aunt, Mrs. Ernest R. Cunningham, at the Cochran apartments, returned to their homes yesterday afternoon. The charming personalities of the young ladies won them much favor socially.

David Humphrey, Jr., has recovered from an attack of grip.

Mr. T. T. Lackey, president of the Leitchfield Lighting company, is in the city on business.

Mr. Richard D. Bakrow, of Louisville, is in the city on business concerning the Palmer House cigar stand.

Mrs. H. C. Hartley, of Camella, is suffering with neuralgia.

Mr. Joseph Gardner returned home yesterday from Lehigh, Okla., where he attended the funeral of his brother, Dr. David Gardner. He brought Dr. Gardner's two youngest sons, David and James, with him and their sister, Miss Mildred Gardner, will follow shortly. They will make their home with their grandmother, Mrs. S. M. Gardner, in this city.

Mr. Ernest Crawford, of Paducah, was the guest of Mr. S. C. Wright during Monday. He returned home Tuesday morning and was accompanied by Miss Kate Wright, who will visit Mrs. Crawford—Mayfield Monitor.

Mr. R. B. Phillips has gone to Texas and other points south in the interest of the Wisdom Hosiery company mills.

Mrs. Eva Brown is the guest of Mrs. Owen, in Paducah—Memphis News-Schmitt.

Mrs. M. V. Baynam, of Paducah, is visiting her son, Mack, Baynam, and family at Viola.

Dr. P. V. Kimbrough, of Maxon Mills, was in the city last night to attend the meeting of the McCracken County Medical society.

Miss Anna E. Crooks, formerly superintendent of Riverside hospital, but now of Louisville, will arrive in the city Friday and for several days will be the guest of Miss Lula Hargis, head nurse at Riverside hospital. Miss Crooks is en route to California on a visit, and will accompany Mrs. Richard Clements.

Mr. Clarence Knowles was in the city today the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Knowles, 415 Kentucky avenue en route south on a business trip.

Mr. A. E. Joyner returned from Princeton last night after a business trip.

Mrs. Leffert L. Buck, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., will arrive on Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Elbridge Palmer and Miss Frances Gould, at "The Ferns." She will be accompanied by her niece, little Miss Jane Gould, of New York City.

Dr. KJing Brooks has returned from San Diego, Cal., where he has been prospecting for several months, and will reopen his office here in a few days. Temporarily he will be with Dr. Duley. Mrs. Brooks will not return for several weeks.

Mr. Roy Rouse, 919 Broadway, will leave early tomorrow morning for Meriden, Miss., where he has accepted a position.

Forrest Wring, who was badly injured at the Broadway crossing between two freight cars Monday morning, is resting easy and is improving, as well as can be expected, his right arm, which was crushed, will not have to be amputated, unless some disease is contracted.

Elbert Wring, who has been sick for two weeks with fever, is slowly improving.

NEWS OF COURTS

In Circuit Court.
Suit was filed in circuit court today by P. F. Foreman against Sheriff John W. Ogilvie for $203, the value of some logs it is claimed the sheriff unlawfully seized under an attachment, the logs being on the east bank of the Tennessee river, and the plaintiff alleges were far above high water mark in Livingston county and beyond the jurisdiction of the sheriff.

In Bankruptcy.
According to a report filed in the bankruptcy court yesterday by Trustee A. E. Boyd, of the Thompson-Willson firm, the company has failed to account for $74,518.75 received in cash between April 6, 1907, and December 1, 1907. The trustee's report is based upon a statement made by C. M. Thomas, an expert accountant, who checked over the books. Mr. Thomas reports that $84,666.73 was received in the time stated and $10,147.98 paid out, the remaining $74,518.75 being accounted for.

In Police Court.
Before Judge Cross finished the docket this morning it was 11:30 o'clock. The docket was: Drunk—Frank McCarty and Frank Riddle, $1 and costs. Drunk and disorderly—Snake Wade, colored, $5 and costs. Breach of peace—Louis Caproal and Tom Constantine, $1 and costs; Will Butler and Bob McDonald, colored, continued until tomorrow; Feelin Mitchell, colored, $10 and costs. Robbery—Mose Graves, colored, held to answer and bail fixed at $300. Disorderly conduct—Harvey Buford, colored, $50 and costs. Malicious cutting—Charles Carroll, continued until tomorrow. Fugitive from justice—Walter Lee, continued until tomorrow.

SCHOOL NOTES

This morning at opening exercise of the high school Superintendent Carnegie gave a short talk on the value of literary work to the high school students. For the boys Superintendent Carnegie will try to encourage the work in oratory, as it will be of practical aid to them in later life. Professor Carnegie has much interest in the work, and his short talk was appreciated by the students. Yesterday morning Professor Sugg gave a similar talk to the students, and several entries may be secured in the oratorical contest May 7th, the anniversary of The Hague conference.

SENATORS STRIKE BLOW AT PLAN OF THE "DRYS."

Washington, March 18.—By the vote of 3 to 2 the sub-committee of the senate committee on judiciary declared unconstitutional all of the bills intended to remove federal barriers against states exercising control of their powers for the regulation of the liquor traffic.

Hearings on these measures have been held covering almost the entire present session, and the bills were advocated by representatives of practically all of the states where there is a strong prohibition sentiment. The members of the sub-committee are Senator Knox, Nelson, Fulton, Bacon and Rayner.

The full committee met later and discussed the report of the sub-committee. Legal arguments were made for and against the proposed legislation, but there was no division to indicate what the prospects are for a bill being reported to the senate. The arguments were not completed, and it was agreed finally to have the views of the members printed. The question will be taken up again on Monday.

RANCHMEN QUARREL AND ONE IS KILLED BY OTHER.

Roanoke, Texas, March 18.—Donald Miller, a millionaire cattleman, died last night from pistol wounds inflicted by James Burgess, of Ft. Worth. The tragedy was the result of a dispute over a ranch ownership. Burgess was arrested.

Independence, Kan., March 18.—Fearing an attack by bank robbers the town of Deering near Tiro, which the robbers visited last Friday, is raising a fund to buy rifles, which will be placed in different stores. The commercial club voted its entire treasury to the fund. As a reward of courage it is announced in case of an attack, the first man who reaches a rifle and uses it may keep it.

Trenton, N. J., March 18.—The legislature adopted resolutions congratulating former President Cleveland, who is 71 years old today.

Beggars Infest City.
The city is overrun with beggars. The Charity club has been besieged with beggars of all descriptions. Some claim to be sick but few are given aid by Secretary Toner. The warm weather has made it possible for the beggars to be out, and many have begun a house-to-house canvass, soliciting alms. With the itinerants are many thieves, and housekeepers should be careful how articles of value are left unwatched. This morning before business hours six beggars applied at the headquarters of the Charity club for aid.

PRESIDENT SAYS GET BUSY AGAIN

Will Send Another Message to Congress This Week.

Some Legislation of Corrective Nature is Demanded for Good of the Country.

SOME THINGS MOST NEEDED

Washington, March 18.—Congress is going to "do something." President Roosevelt has brought the senate and house leaders around to his way of thinking and to the country's point of view with respect to doing nothing policy inaugurated at the beginning of the session.

Another executive message has been prepared for transmission to congress and it was announced that it probably will be sent in this week. It is a revised edition of the communication sent to the senate and house on January 31 last, but it is understood it is not so long as the previous "special message," which caused possibly more talk than any other state paper emanating from the white house during the occupancy of the present incumbent.

Stress has been laid upon a few important subjects regarding which there is an imperative demand for action before congress closes for the season and its members throw the bulk of their attention in the coming presidential campaign. Already, according to the reported understanding between the president and the leaders in congress, agreement practically has been reached for action as follows:

The enactment of an employers' liability law that will stand the constitutional test.

The passage of the emergency currency bill now pending in the senate, with, probably, some important amendments in the house.

The adoption of a resolution which will give tariff revision a start before the national campaign opens.

What He Wants.
How much further congress may go and to just what extent the president will insist on the program of progressive legislation heretofore mapped out cannot be stated accurately at this writing. The president, it is known, wants legislation to perfect the railroad laws now on the statute books and to amend the anti-trust law in important particulars, but it is problematical whether anything definite can be secured in these matters before adjournment a few months hence.

It may be possible to secure action looking to the legalizing of pooling by the railroads and it may be possible to secure action permitting railroad corporations to acquire non-competing lines, but these have been involved with anti-injunction and other affairs pertaining to labor, and if an effort be made to push measures comprehending all the various phases concerned the result would be a long-drawn-out tussle with possibly no practical consummation of the end sought. An effective liability law is regarded as something alone worth labor's while to achieve, and the securing of it is one of the things—perhaps the thing—the president most demands among those regarding which legislation up to now has seemed doubtful.

If congress tackles the railroad and trust problems specifically, it probably will be with the intention of remedying injustices now inflicted upon the corporations and along the lines of disproving the charges that the present administration is bent upon persecuting capital honestly invested and employed. In this connection there have been rumors within the past twenty-four hours that the president is to issue a "reassuring statement" to the business interests of the country. The phraseology is Wall Street's. The "reassurance" to be given by the president undoubtedly will be contained in his forthcoming message to congress, setting forth a program of action to which congress already has promised to give heed through the leaders who control the course of legislation.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louisville, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time, and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at all druggists.

TOURNAMENT

WILL BE HELD AT EAGLES' GYM TOMORROW NIGHT.

Excellent Program of Athletic Sports Will Be Carried Out By the Members.

The program for the athletic tournament tomorrow night at the Eagles' gym consists of wrestling matches between William Wilhelm and Frank Burton and Butcher Jones and Warren Sights, Frank Hagerty and Leslie Owen.

Henneberger and Sights, will spar several rounds and Sam Goodman and Garfield Froge will enter the ring for a four round contest.

A Higher Health Level.
"I have reached a higher health level since I began using Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes Jacob Springer of West Franklin, Maine. "They keep my stomach, liver and bowels working just right." If these pills disappoint you on trial, money will be refunded at all druggists, 25c.

PLEAD PARDON FOR POWERS.

Frankfort, Ky., March 18.—Late this afternoon nearly all the Republican members of the house and senate met and marched in a body to the governor's office, where they put in a plea for the pardon of Caleb Powers. They urged on the governor the needs of a pardon, and told him they all favored Powers being set free. It was urged that the Republicans of the Eleventh district want him to run for congress, and that he cannot very well run when he is locked up in jail. Gov. Willson gave the members a courteous hearing, but did not express himself in any way so that his intentions might be learned.

SPEAKS IN ST. LOUIS.

Bishop Woodcock to Deliver Address.

Two themes of special import relative to the observances of Lent will be dealt with by Bishop Charles E. Woodcock, of the Kentucky diocese, before the members of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church in St. Louis Tuesday, says the Louisville Herald.

Bishop Woodcock left Monday morning for St. Louis, and will address the members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of that city, at the supper to be given in the guild rooms at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night. Another general meeting will be held later, at which the bishop will also make an address.

Rank Foolishness.

"When attacked by a cough or a cold, or when your throat is sore, it is rank foolishness to take any other medicine than Dr. King's New Discovery," says C. O. Elbridge, of Empire, Ga. "I have used New Discovery seven years and I know it is the best remedy on earth for coughs and colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. ADVISED CHINESE

JAPAN WAS SEEKING EXCUSE FOR HOSTILITIES.

Pacific Attitude Suggested After Exchanges With Great Britain.

Washington, March 18.—The recent pacific attitude on the part of China in her controversy with Japan and her present inclination to yield to the demands of her neighbor may be directly attributed to the good offices of the United States.

It is learned that in the early stages of the exchanges between the two countries China counted implicitly on the moral if not the actual support of the United States in resisting the demands of Japan. When Minister Wu returned to this country it was with instructions to ask China's great and good friend, the United States, to help her out in her quarrel with Japan. That such aid would be extended was the belief of the leading men of China. For a series of years this country had shown a marked disposition to be fair with China in all things that involved her interests.

China's Action Embarrassed U. S.
China's action in turning to us at a time when we have serious difficulties of our own with Japan was most embarrassing in a way, as it was felt that Japan would be most jealous of anything we might prompt.

Again, China has resented the continued occupation of Manchuria by the Japanese and interference with her trade, has annoyed the Japanese very much. It is an open secret that just what Russia did in monopolizing the Manchurians' trade Japan has been

EASIEST FIGHT HE EVER MADE

Burns Knocks Roche Out in One and Thirty Eight.

Much Money Was Up Together With World Championship—Roche
Says He Did It Too Quick.

HAD NO DOUBT OF OUTCOME.

Doulin, March 18.—Tommy Burns
American pugilist, last night knocked out Jim Roche, the Irish champion, in the first round in the theater Royal for the heavyweight championship of the world. The men hardly got in the ring, when Burns feinted and put a right over on side of the head. Roche went down, and was counted out. He got up a moment later apparently unhurt. The men were in the ring one minute and thirty-eight seconds.

The syndicate offered to match
Squires against Burns on the same terms.
On the stroke of the gong Burns jumped to the center of the ring and started his usual tactics of trying to draw out his opponent. This seemed to annoy Roche who angrily struck down Burns' arm, and then covered his face with both gloves to protect it from a threatened blow. Burns, however, was looking for a better chance, and a moment later he feinted with his left and shot his right over to the jaw which was entirely unprotected.

The Irishman went to the canvas but not heavily. He slid along on his side and then rolled over, face downwards. Very few of the spectators, even those on the stage, were quick enough to see how it was done and there were cries of "fake."
There was no doubt, however, that Roche went in to do his best but he was outclassed and altogether too slow for a man of Burns' quickness and ring craft.

Immediately after the count Roche

SO SOOTHING

Its Influence Has Been Felt By So Many Paducah Readers.

The soothing influence of relief
After suffering from itching piles,
From eczema or any itchiness of the skin,
Makes one feel grateful to the remedy.
Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds.

Here's what one Paducah citizen
says:
J. R. Womble, of 1162 Broadway, Paducah, Ky., says: "For years I was a sufferer from itching piles in a very severe form. They were the plague of my life. When I would get heated up they would annoy me terribly and at night I could get no rest.
I have often got up and walked around the room. I believe I have tried nearly every remedy that has been on the market, but nothing ever gave me the desired relief until I got a box of Doan's Ointment at DuBois & Co's drug store. The very first application gave me relief and after the second-day I could go to bed at night and sleep as peacefully and quietly as anyone. The one box cured me entirely. It is now about three months since I used it and there has been no sign of a return. I also used the Ointment on my hand for a sore and found it very healing." (From statement given in 1900.)

A Lasting Cure.
On February 18 Mr. Womble confirmed the above statement by saying: "I gave a statement in 1900 telling how Doan's Ointment had cured me of a severe case of itching piles. I am glad to confirm that statement at this time, as the cure has been lasting. Doan's Ointment is certainly a superior remedy for this trouble or any skin affliction."

got to his feet but staggered about the stage. When he had recovered himself he went over smilingly to congratulate the winner. He had met a better man, Roche said last night after he somewhat got over the suddenness of his defeat.

"He did it too quick; that's all."
The fight was for a purse of $7,500 which was put up by a syndicate, of which Richard Croker, the former Tammany leader, was a member, and a side bet of $2,500. In addition Burns had $7,500 on himself at odds of 3 to 1. The ringside betting was 7 to 2 on the American.

The blow which decided the fight was the only one of any consequence during the minute and thirty-eight seconds the men were in the ring. The crowd which shortly before had cheered Roche to the echo and greeted him with "From Wexford" were so taken back that after a few angry hisses they went quietly out of the theater.

Burns said of the fight that it was the easiest he had ever had. He went in, he added, to make it as short as possible, as he had too much money at stake at long odds to take any chances. He had expected, however, that the fight would go a few rounds although he was never in doubt as to the final result.

While the reception given the fighters was enthusiastic, it was tame compared with the cheering that followed the announcement that it was largely through the efforts of Richard Croker former Tammany leader, that Roche was able to enter the contest. Croker who was in a box at the ring side, had to acknowledge the tremendous cheering that greeted him.

Killed in Boxing Bout.

Philadelphia, March 18.—In an amateur boxing tournament following the regular performance at the Bijou theater here last night, Willie Robinson, aged 19, was killed while boxing with Charles Wolf, of the same age.

Robinson and Wolf, who were friends, had been in the ring but a few seconds when the latter struck Robinson a blow over the heart. Robinson collapsed on the stage, became unconscious and never recovered.

Fred Douglas, referee, under whose management the tournament was held, together with Wolf, Fred Moore, his second, and Marcus Williams, second for Robinson, were arrested, and held to await the action of the coroner.

BRITISH SHIP STARTED PANIC

Haytiens Startled by Booming of Guns in Harbor.

Commander Apologized When Told
of Trouble He Caused—German Cruiser in Haytien Waters.

TO DEPORT REVOLUTIONISTS.

Port Au Prince, March 18.—The British cruiser, Indefatigable, and the German cruiser, Bremen, have arrived here under orders from their governments to give full protection to any foreign residents in Port Au Prince, in case their lives or interests are threatened.

At present the city is quiet, but there is an underlying current of anxiety as evidenced by the fact that a veritable panic was caused by the booming of a heavy gun on the British cruiser when she came to anchor in the port last evening.

The Indefatigable announced her arrival by three cannon shots, and the detonations almost terrorized the people. Surprised by the sudden alarm, officers and soldiers alike rushed precipitately to their posts;
women and children ran about, in seeming despair, crying hysterically, and it was some little time before they could be reassured and calmed.

General Deroncourt, chief of the harbor force, said the commander of the Indefatigable after he had learned of the panic he had caused, evinced the greatest surprise and begged the general to express to President Alexis his regrets at having been the involuntary cause of so regrettable an incident.

Positive denial is made by Haytien
officials of reports that other executions have taken place than those of Sunday morning when ten or twelve conspirators who were found, according to the government's statement, with arms and ammunition for revolutionary purposes in their possession, were shot to death.

To Deport Revolutionists.

Under a decision taken by the council of ministers, the government today authorized sending on warships and out of the country the authors of the last insurrection, who have taken refuge at the French, German and Spanish consulates at Gonaives. The government reserves for itself, however,
the right to prosecute before properly appointed courts any persons who hereafter are implicated in uprisings.
This action on the government's part being conditional on representatives of foreign nations agreeing not to give asylum in their respective consulates in case of further revolutionary movements being attempted.

Minister of War Celestin, has returned to Port Au Prince at the head of his troops, after having put down the revolutionists at Gonaives. He made a statement today in which he denied absolutely that the government entertained hostile sentiments toward foreigners. President Nord Alexis and his ministers also gave assurance of the utmost good feelings towards all foreigners who are pursuing their duties peacefully in Hayti.

KENTUCKY GIVEN BAD NAME ABROAD

(Concluded from First Page.)

the constitution had just such situations in mind when they provided for the use of the men and resources of all the states to maintain a republican form of government in any one state;
for just prior to the constitutional convention there had been serious insurrections in Massachusetts and other states over the issue of fiat currency.
Whenever the situation in Kentucky menaces the stability of government in other states, or whenever the governor decides that the state authority is inadequate to cope with the situation, a power could be turned on the night riders that would annihilate them.

But it is the belief on the part of the state authorities, I explain to strangers, and a belief and hope on the part of many Kentuckians, that the lawlessness will subside without having to resort to such heroic and certainly lamentable measures to suppress it. Continuing, my acquaintance inquired:

"Has the voice of the preacher perished out of your state? Where are those stern ministers of righteousness whose voices are wont to thunder out against evil? It seems to me that every pulpit in the state would ring with no other theme than the unmitigated wrong of night riding. I know that the preachers have not lost their influence over the Anglo-Saxon character, and if they were fighting this evil
that has come upon Kentucky character, as they ordinarily fight the evils in men there would surely be less lawlessness, or sterner efforts to suppress it."

I read an interview of one man from Kentucky in a local paper in which he professed to be ashamed of his state, but I do not believe that this is a feeling shared by even a minority of Kentuckians as yet. Because Kentucky has produced such notable figures, it follows that the old commonwealth can still produce great characters and redeem the slur cast on its escutcheon by the night riders. What outsiders cannot understand is how a state that is noted for its open and above-board methods, could produce a gang of men, who resort to such cowardly means to gain their ends.
The world did not approve of the feud ists, yet the feudist, who meets his enemy in the open and gives him a fair chance to defend himself, has never been considered a coward. At most he was rated as a man with primitive ideas of justice and its execution. It is generally believed that if the night riders should operate in the daylight, matters would be brought to a head that would settle the situation in short order and in favor of law.

Kentucky has slipped rapidly down in the eyes of the world from its former honorable position, and while it is inevitable that the state will sooner or later redeem itself, this process like all reconstructive efforts, will be slow and painful.

Henderson, Ky., March 18.—The Second district Republican committee in session here called the district convention for Wednesday, May 29, in Henderson to nominate a candidate for congress, select two delegates to the Chicago national convention, two alternates, one elector, an assistant elector and a district chairman. Eight counties were represented. E. McEwen, of McLean county, was chosen district secretary to succeed Paul M. More, of Hopkins.

Of the chairmen George B. Harvey, of Hopkins county; T. B. Young, Jr., of Union county; J. McEwen, of McLean county, and E. B. Long, of Christian county, are claimed by the Taft men, while I. N. Baker, of Webster county, is regarded as a probability. The Fairbanks men have heretofore claimed Mr. Long, who is president of the City Bank at Hopkinsville, because his son, E. S. Long, of Henderson, is a deputy collector of Internal revenue under E. T. Franks, but Mr. Long recently assured Chairman Scott that he had a mind of his own. Just so the Taft men get four of the five men they expect, they are winners, as there are only eight members to vote, and the chairman is an ardent Taft disciple. The members of the committee who are regarded as Fairbanks certainities are Thomas E. Ward, of Henderson; Dr. J. P. Heavrin, of Daviess, and W. H. Brown, of Hancock.

SPRING MILLINERY OPENING

Friday and Saturday, March 20 and 21

It is a showing of superbly rich, attractive millinery creations. Beautiful hats, artistically trimmed, chosen with rare skill, every hat the work of an artist. Pleasing combinations, great variety. No two hats are alike. All priced at prices to make it to everybody's interest to buy here. This store's millinery leadership will be pre-eminently greater during the Spring of 1908 than ever before.

Everybody cordially invited to attend on opening days. Bring your friends please.

be held for both purposes. Representative Langley will have no opposition.

Judge O'Rear Named.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 18.—The Seventh Republican district committee met here and resolved itself into a convention nominating Judge E. C. O'Rear to succeed himself on the appellate bench. Eighteen of twenty-seven counties were represented.

Judge O'Rear was present and accepted in a brief speech.

The Tenth district congressional committee met at 1 o'clock, and Beattyville, Paintsville and Winchester are fighting for the convention, with the latter looking winner.

Congressman Langley is here and will have no opposition. Representatives from all over the district show a tremendous trend to the Taft band wagon, and it looks as if this district is sure for the big secretary.
